In an effort to provide our valued clients with most up to date and accurate information The Birth Co is continuously implementing real time updates to our online store. Due to the immediate nature of these updates, the correction of any errors and/ or omissions can happen at any time without prior notice. This information may include but is not limited to pricing and availability.

The Birth Co is not responsible for any additional charges, labour, loss, or damage incurred as a result of information, correct or incorrect, referenced or products purchased from The Birth Co. While we work to avoid any errors or omissions that may appear on The Birth Co website, we do reserve the right to cancel any undelivered orders based on inaccurate information.

Sessions: The client enters the sessions with the full understanding that their participation in the sessions is completely voluntary. Additionally, the client agrees that they are completely responsible for their behaviour, life changes or choices they make and for creating their own results.

Session Fees: Workshops, Classes and packages are charged as per advertised pricing at the time of promotion. Deposit is required at the time of booking the session online as per advertised.

Cancellation/ Rescheduling Policy: rescheduling of classes, workshops should be done at least 48 hours before the session, rescheduling within 48 hours of the session will incur another session fee as that time has been allotted for you. This does not apply for genuine and extenuating personal circumstances. Cancellation of a session will result in forfeit of the full fee payments are non-refundable but will be considered under extenuating circumstances where a complete cancellation rather than rescheduling is required.

Confidentiality: the practitioner/facilitator recognises that anything the client shares is regarded as confidential, whether it is business or personal information. The practitioner/ facilitator undertakes not to, at any time, either directly or indirectly use or disclose any information the client shares. Any personal information disclosed at classes or workshops, by other clients, the practitioner and/ or support persons will be treated as confidential by the client.

Data Collection/ Electronic communications: When you send emails to us, you are communicating with us electronically and you consent to receive communications from us electronically. We will not lend or sell your email address to any other organization. All personal data collected is securely held, never shared with third parties and no financial information is stored.

Disclaimer: By making a booking and purchase through this site, I accept the terms and conditions above and take full responsibility for payment, cancellation terms and confidentiality. I understand that advice received within the sessions is delivered with full intention to support me in my healing and growth. The advice is not intended to replace the advice of a qualified financial advisor, planner, accountant or doctor. Please seek these services if required. Whilst attending sessions, classes or workshops I understand that all effort will be made to ensure my individual safety; however, I understand fully that no liability or responsibility for loss or injury can be accepted by me.
